

Access Statement for Dellfield Self-Catering unit

Introduction and Overview

The self-catering flat is on the ground floor in an annexe attached to the main house. The flat is not suitable for guests needing wheelchair access due to the small bedroom and bathroom sizes and also a narrow doorway (66cm) between the sitting room and kitchen area. Although the flat is all on the ground floor there are 3 different levels each separated by a small step (no higher than 10cm).

The flat benefits from oil central heating with radiators in all rooms, hot water is provided by the oil boiler as well as by immersion heater as a standby.

There is poor mobile phone coverage in the area. O2 customers should get a reasonable signal, others will only get a weak signal at the corner of the garden.
